3. WiscNet To Hold Listening Session in Merrill

A local WiscNet member will be giving a Listening Session on Security from 9:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Tuesday, June 25, at the T.B. Scott Free Library in Merrill. The following will be shared:

- What does "security" mean and look like in your organization?
- Where are you at on your security journey?
- What problems are you trying to solve?
- What do you still need to learn?

This is a great opportunity to hear from each other and connect face-to-face with others in your community. RSVP for the session here.

4. OverDrive/WPLC Updates

- OverDrive is aware of and is working on the following issues that have come up since the last Libby update: 1. Some users are seeing identical covers show for every title on their shelf: Until this is resolved, users might be able to clear the issue by tapping the "Synchronize Shelf" button. Otherwise, they (or you) should report the issue to our team via Libby help for additional troubleshooting steps.
2. For iOS users, titles "spin" but never open, or the user gets a "Could Not Open Title" error message. This seems to be associated only with certain titles. Libbyapp.com in the browser can be used as a workaround if users can't get their book to open. Or, users can try the following steps:
  - a. Go to Shelf > Loans. b. Tap Downloaded, then Stream (when online).
  - c. Tap Yes, wipe download to confirm. d. Tap Download, then Download again.
  - This will download a fresh copy.

7. State News

- The Wisconsin Women's Council is described online as a statutory commission on the status of women and girls meant to enhance the ability of all Wisconsin women to participate fully and equally in all aspects of life. Read more.
- BiblioBoard 101: Are you looking to provide tools to support your local authors while also growing your readers' access to digital resources - all available for free and with no waiting? In the last year, the Wisconsin Public Library Consortium (WPLC) introduced new resources for Wisconsin writers and readers, in partnership with BiblioBoard and with funding from IMLS. Join WPLC Project Managers from WiLS, Melody Clark and Andi Coffin, in a free and virtual webinar as they share information about these four resources and how you can help users find and use them on Friday, March 8th at 1:00pm. This presentation will be recorded and shared. Register here.
