5) Digital Byte/Participants Guide on Using Bluejeans
As many of you are starting to use Bluejeans for your library, Jamie created a Digital Byte on tips as a moderator. You can view it here.

Katie created a “Participant Guide for Users” that also might be of help. (attached)

If you would like to schedule a sound check with a WVLS staff member, please submit a Help Ticket (help@librarieswin.org).

6) WVLS 2020 Scholarships Due on Monday
The WVLS Scholarships for 2020 are due on Monday, April 13. Due to the coronavirus “Safer at Home” Order, Library Board President signatures are waived at this time. The signatures can be gathered retroactively.

You can find more information and the applications here.

7) Alternatives for Summer Library Programs
Anne Hamland is working with youth consultants across the state in exploring alternative methods to help member libraries continue to provide a summer reading program safely.

Beanstack is hosting a demonstration webinar today and Thursday at 11 a.m. CST to share the Beanstack web service and mobile app. Register to attend. Beanstack is a software that allows personalized tracking of reading, events attended, and challenges set by the library. Users earn badges and can build reading streaks and redeem their achievements for incentives set by the library. Beanstack can send weekly book recommendations and more.

The content will be the same at the webinar today or on Thursday.

8) WI Historical Society COVID-19 Journal Project
The Wisconsin Historical Society has long been a leader in documenting history as it happens, dating back to the Civil War when Founding Director Lyman Draper asked soldiers stationed at Camp Randall to record their daily lives in journals. You can help write a new chapter in history, chronicling the COVID-19 pandemic's impact on Wisconsin and beyond. Learn more and sign up to take part in this project.

9) Minecraft Server Available
Managed Minecraft "vanilla" server is up and configured, and available to the public. Joshua will be working in the evenings this week to publish some basic instructions for libraries interested in sponsoring a club/group/faction on the server, some programming ideas curated from programs other libraries have done in the past, and will probably give out some accounts to libraries that don't currently have any access but are interested in exploring.
